A Job

Mr. Wang from China had a business meeting with executive manager Mary Jackson about a high position in a Canadian government agency. Mr. Wang says he had a big chance to become the representative of the agency, but he finally failed to get the job with a salary of $80,000 a year. The reason is clear: when he was introducing himself to Mrs. Jackson, his false teeth fell out of his mouth twice. He had these dentures<sup>1</sup> made by a dentist right before the meeting, but the teeth suddenly came loose. This forced Mrs. Jackson to look away in shock. Mr. Wang apologised and went to the toilet to fix the teeth. But when the same thing happened again in the middle of their conversation, Mrs. Jackson was shocked and told him to leave her office immediately. Now Mr. Wang is taking the dentist to court and wants $15,000 compensation.

Ferris Wheel

Everybody knows the Ferris wheel. But do you know who created its design? In 1893, the World Fair was held in Chicago to celebrate the 400th anniversary of Columbus's landing in America. The fair's organisers wanted something as impressive as the Eiffel Tower, which was built for the 1889 Paris World Fair. But finding an attractive design was difficult. Architect Daniel Burnham, whose task was to select the best design for the Chicago World Fair, complained at an engineer's meeting in Detroit in 1891 that they couldn't find anything interesting. Among the audience was George Ferris, a bridge-builder from Pittsburgh. He got an idea and drew the design for the Ferris wheel on a napkin. His original Ferris wheel constructed for the fair was destroyed but another one appeared at the Pittsburgh Carnival in 1899.

A Wonderful Discovery

A bottle of champagne called Veuve Clicquot, produced even before the French Revolution, was sold for 30,000 euros at an auction last month. It is only a thousand euros less than the world record price for champagne. Although it is more than 200 years old, it is still forty years younger than Dom Perignon which is the current record-holder for the oldest champagne in the world. Divers got Veuve Clicquot with other bottles of champagne out of a shipwreck<sup>1</sup> at the bottom of the Baltic Sea four years ago. Wine experts say it is in excellent condition because of the darkness and cold temperature at the bottom of the sea. They also agree it tastes better than any other champagne ever produced.

Milo, a cat, wears a magnetic collar<sup>1</sup> which unlocks its cat flap door. This is to make sure that neighbours' cats can't get in the house to steal Milo's food. But this automatic system caused trouble in the neighbourhood last week. House and car keys started disappearing from inside homes of people who live in the area. When Milo came home with a lot of small objects sticking to its collar, its owner, a pensioner named Ms. Alexander, realised what was going on: the cat was walking round the neighbourhood and entering other people's homes through their unprotected cat flap doors. Milo's magnetic collar kept picking up keys and other objects. Luckily, neighbours saw the funny side of this kind of burglary and did not take the cat owner to court.

It happened in Wisconsin...

Two men in Wisconsin were arrested after one of their mobile phones called 911 by accident. The owner of the phone didn't lock the mobile keypad<sup>1</sup> and put the phone in his pocket. Thanks to this 'pocket call', which lasted about thirty minutes, police officers could hear how Peter Evans, 29, and Brian Johnson, 28, talked about stealing from a local jewellery shop that morning. The men were in their old car driving quickly away from the shop when the phone call was made. Both Evans and Johnson, who even described their car during the accidental call, were arrested when they later arrived at a petrol station on Atwood Street.

The Lower East Side Tenement<sup>1</sup> Museum in Manhattan, New York

Our museum celebrates the people of different nationalities who came to live in the USA many years ago. The museum building was built by a German immigrant in Manhattan, NY, at 97 Orchard Street. This apartment building was a cheap home to 7,000 working-class immigrants between 1863 and 1935. In 1992, we opened the first restored apartment, the home of a German-Jewish family, the Gumperts, who came here in 1878. We've carefully restored six more apartments since then, including our newest one: the home of the Moores, Irish immigrants who moved here in 1869.

There are three ways to explore the Tenement Museum:

1/ TENEMENT TOURS

Tour the building at 97 Orchard Street and see many different exhibitions, for example the restored apartments and businesses of past residents.

SHOP LIFE TOUR*

Shops filled the ground floor of 97 Orchard Street for over a century. Visit the 1870s German beer saloon, use interactive media and decide if you want to know more about the life and work of butchers, bakers or underwear sellers of that time.

- Unfortunately, our interactive media are not adapted to be operated by visitors who are blind or have weak vision.
- Unlimited wheelchair capacity.

Ground floor–90 minutes

HARD TIMES TOUR*

Discover how immigrants survived the economic crisis at 97 Orchard Street. Visit the homes of the German-Jewish Gumpert family, and of the Italian Baldizzi family. Join the discussion about topics from this tour and share your thoughts with your guide and fellow visitors in our newly opened Discussion Centre also situated on the 2nd floor, just next to the Baldizzi apartment.

- Recommended for visitors who are blind or have weak vision.
- Limited wheelchair capacity. It is necessary to call 1-877-97 in advance to reserve wheelchair tickets.

2nd floor–2 hours

*Only for ages 12+ (Younger children are welcome on other tours.)

2/ THE CONFINOS TOUR**

Visit the apartment of the Confino family from Greece and meet 14-year-old Victoria Confino and her parents. In 1916 they lived at 97 Orchard Street and are now played by professional actors in costumes. Visitors are welcome to put on the historical costumes as well, play the role of newly arrived immigrants, and ask the 'Confino family' questions about living on the Lower East Side. This tour allows visitors to touch and hold household objects.

- The tour is highly recommended for visitors who are blind or have weak vision.
- Unlimited wheelchair capacity.

**Only for ages 5+

1st floor–2 hours

3/ NEIGHBOURHOOD TOUR***

Take a guided walking tour to explore the neighbourhood of 97 Orchard Street and see the place through the eyes of the immigrants. Taste dumplings from local street stalls, look at the Jarmulowsky Bank building, where immigrants deposited and eventually lost their life savings, or go past the elementary school, where generations of immigrants learned how to be 'American'. This tour does not enter any buildings except for the initial meeting in our Visitors Centre where the tour starts.

- Not suitable for visitors who are blind or have weak vision.
- Unlimited wheelchair capacity.

***Only for ages 8+

60 minutes

Tenement Museum tours begin and end at the Visitors Centre, located at 103 Orchard Street on the corner of Orchard Street and Delancey Street, where tickets are also sold.

The History of the Yo-Yo

The yo-yo has existed for two thousand years. The yo-yo is the second oldest toy in history, the oldest after the doll. Ancient yo-yos were made of wood or clay<sup>1</sup> and they were called 'discs'. It is believed that the yo-yo has its origin either in Egypt, where painted stones similar to the shape of a yo-yo were found in temples, or in China, where mysterious round objects were discovered at excavation sites<sup>2</sup>. However, the oldest representation of a real toy yo-yo comes from Greece where archeologists found a vase from 500BC with an image showing a boy playing with a yo-yo. Another, but much younger, image of the yo-yo toy is painted on a jewellery box from India from 765AD.

There were different customs in different ancient cultures connected with the yo-yo. In Egypt, when a child grew up, his or her toys were offered as a gift to the gods. Scientists discovered that some of the decorated discs made of clay were used for this purpose rather than for playing. On the other hand, long ago in the Philippines, playing with a yo-yo was a national entertainment for both young and old. The yo-yo was also used there as a weapon for over 400 years. Their version was large and sharp with a long rope for throwing it at enemies. People from the Philippines were not only real experts at using the yo-yo but they were also excellent yo-yo creators and designers. Painted yo-yos with amazing patterns often served as a decoration in their homes.

Around 1800, the yo-yo moved into Western Europe. At that time, the toy wasn't called a 'yo-yo' but it was known under various names which have been forgotten over time. The British used to call the toy 'the prince's toy' or 'quiz'. French historical terms include 'incroyable', which means 'incredible' and expresses how interesting the toy was, or 'jou jou de Normandie' ('jou jou' meaning 'little toy'). However, 'yo-yo' as we all call it today, can be translated as 'to come back'. It is a word from the Tagalog language, the native language of the Philippines.

In 1927, a man from the Philippines named Pedro Flores brought the yo-yo to the USA and began a yo-yo company in California. Two years later, a businessman named Donald Duncan watched the crowd Flores was able to attract by doing a few tricks with his yo-yo. He immediately saw the great potential of the toy and bought not only the idea of the toy yo-yo, but Flores' company itself. Duncan was an excellent businessman. He developed advertising campaigns and had special employees later known as 'Yo-Yo Professionals' who travelled the USA showing and teaching yo-yo tricks and even establishing yo-yo competitions for local people to increase sales. The winner, of course, always got a prize from them – a yo-yo. Sales grew and grew and in 1962, the company sold a record 45 million yo-yos in the USA. Nowadays, June 6 is National Yo-Yo Day.

The Elephant Man

This is the true story of the life of Joseph Merrick who (49) _____ for two things: the disease which made his appearance disgusting to most people; and his gentle personality.

Joseph was born in England (50) _____ 5th August, 1862. At first, he seemed to be a normal baby, but at the age of 21 months, strange growths<sup>1</sup> appeared on his body. No one knew (51) _____ this happened but his mother thought it was because a circus elephant had frightened her during her pregnancy<sup>2</sup>. (52) _____ her opinion, this caused the boy to grow ugly, big and wrinkled, like an elephant.

Joseph's mother didn't care about her son's appearance and treated him like her (53) _____ children. Also, the growths on his body got larger and people in the street were afraid (57) _____ him.

One day, Joseph met Mr. Torr, a comedian, who offered him (58) _____ job in Sam Roper's circus. Joseph, or 'The Elephant Man', as Mr. Torr started to call him, became a new attraction in his 'freak<sup>3</sup> and monster show'. But before long, people stopped thinking it was funny to see human beings like this and asked the police (59) _____ the show.

When the last performance was held, a young doctor, Frederick Treves, visited Joseph. He was very (60) _____ in Joseph's sickness and examined him carefully. He wanted to (61) _____ doctors about this strange human being and brought Joseph to the hospital. Although Joseph rarely left the hospital, these were the happiest days of his life.
